

Feltech lead the way with Evertz MMA-10G Tier 1 Certification

London, February 12th 2018 –Feltech is delighted to be one of the first systems integrators to achieve Evertz MMA-10G Tier 1 certification.

In line with Feltech's company ethos EvertzAV is adopting lessons learned from the broadcast market and applying them into the professional AV market place.

“As a manufacturer of very high end technology, we want to work with the very best systems integration companies.

Network based designs for Professional AV have arrived. It's new & exciting but represents a very real challenge for integrators tackling these projects for the first time” explains Adam Froud, Sales Director, EMEA EvertzAV. “Feltech have invested the resource, time & effort with EvertzAV to ensure they're fully prepared for this new era & we're delighted to award Feltech our Certification qualification”.

Feltech Managing Director, Peter Fell, added “I built Feltech on a foundation of impeccable engineering and I feel passionately about raising standards. I strongly believe that certification strengthens our industry and reinforces customer confidence as we enter a new era of uncompressed video over IP, cementing our reputation for engineering excellence to our customers worldwide.”
